To You, Seniors,

This year as you leave DeVilbiss, you enter a world of war in high gear. Many of you will go directly into the armed services; others into behind-the-lines positions here at home. All of you, in your own way, will be helping in your country's vital need. To you we present this eleventh edition of the "Pot O' Gold".

Although wartime restrictions have made it necessary to give you a smaller book, we feel that this edition equals the high standard of previous years. This year, more than ever before, it is your book, Seniors--the record of your life at DeVilbiss, caught and preserved for you. It is a journal of your doings, snapped on your way to chem lab, or cramming for history; whirling merrily at the seasonal dance, or busily engaged in Red Cross work. This book is a result of that drastic change which has brought with it new problems, new crises that are altering our present way of life and our plans for the future.

We are proud of you, Seniors, of the part you have played in school life; of the more important part you are about to play--that of bringing our country closer to victory. May your efforts be crowned with a speedy, permanent peace.

Lt. Louis J. Mathias

DeVilbiss made its greatest sacrifice for the war effort in giving up "Louie." Formerly holding the official title of Director of Extra-Curricular Activities, as well as sharing the burdens of Senior Class Advisorship with Mrs. King, Louie was constantly engaged in directing Tad and Taddy as they planned club and social affairs of all kinds. His talents also include stage directing, our traditional "DeVilties" having continually owed their success to his inspiring supervision.

His office, once so constantly occupied by Tadites seeking advice on all manner of things, is waiting, as is DeVilbiss, for his return from his present important duty—that of insuring the right of all young Americans to enjoy the benefits of a high school education.

Let's Show "Louie"

One fine spring day in 1943, a certain naval lieutenant, Louis J. Mathias—known hereabouts as "Louie"—having been given leave from his naval duties, decided to see what the home folks were doing. A few hours later an important telegram arrived at DeVilbiss High School, where Mr. Nauts read it, and hurriedly sent for Tad and Taddy. The message he read them was a source of great excitement and flurry. Louie was on his way home! The welcome mat was thrown out, banners were waving and the band was playing when Louis arrived. And you, dear readers, are just in time, for that fine spring day is Now, and Tad and Taddy are You! Let's show Louie what our contribution to the war effort has been!

Faculty and students alike have plenty to tell. Our members of the faculty have set commendable examples by serving in civilian defense activities, planting victory gardens and taking shop courses, some even leaving to join defense industries and the armed services. Honors to them!

And now Tad and Taddy, it's your turn. Your record includes both class room and outside activities. You have taken part in special war time courses: aeronautics, shop, math, chemistry, and physics, to prepare you for your future parts in the war effort. You have started a Victory Corps, through which you are rendering valuable community service. You have taken pre-induction military training. You have given your time and money in War Chest and Red Cross activities, and have, in numerous other ways compiled a record well worth showing Louie.

What do you think of us, Lieutenant Mathias? Our part has been small, we know, but each passing week will see that part become greater until the victory is won, and you come home again—to stay!

ARTHUR DILLER, Dean of Boys, finds time to prove his patriotism by taking a shop course in preparation for a war job this summer.

MERRITT C. NAUTS, Principal, signs diplomas which this year will mean four hundred seventy-five more boys and girls prepared by education to play their parts in the theaters of war and peace.

MILDRED PASCH, Dean of Girls, advises Alma Ching, DeVilbiss's Hawaiian refugee from Pearl Harbor.

We, the class of 1943, are about to graduate. How closely the past, the present, and the future seem to intertwine as we stand at the climax of one life and at the beginning of another. How easy it is to recall our first dazed wanderings through the halls of DeVilbiss—our keen excitement at being in high school—our first dance, the "Freshman Frenzy." Pictures of class room and club activities flash through the mind as our second and third years go by in retrospect—the "Blackout," our Sophomore Prom; the J-Hop; "Growing Pains," our Junior Play; the Junior-Senior Farewell Dance.

Our present year has seen changes brought about by the war, but we have been very fortunate in maintaining an almost normal schedule of activities. We held our Mid-Winter Dance at the Women's Building in honor of our football squad; we celebrated our Senior Prom at the Trianon; we enjoyed a Senior Banquet followed by a Farewell Dance at which we were feasted by the Juniors. Soon, Collingwood Presbyterian Church will see us at Baccalaureate Service. We will be graduated at the Colony Theater this year since the University Field House, where graduation has been held in former years, has been taken over by the Army Air Corps. Thus, as we come upon the termination of our high school days, we are at a pause between yesterday and tomorrow.

The future is so close we can reach out and touch it. To many of us it means going into the Services of our country; to some it means taking positions here at the home front in industry; to others, it means preparing for a better America through a college education. All of us realize that our task is ready for us—to win this war, and to make from it a future bright with the reality of our present dreams.

Commissioners

Service and Justice—MORT EDGINGTON—combines duties of two commissions—heads our Service Corps, and acts as Prosecuting Attorney before the Student Court—a good man to beware of!

Publicity—BRUCE DEMERS—takes charge of all propaganda and sees that the right bulletins and posters are up when and where they oughta be—he'll say it or have it said for you.

Awards—LAWRENCE HEINISCH—conducts award system whereby Tad and Taddy are rewarded for outstanding school service in the fields of scholarship, sports, and other activities—be nice to this chap!

Athletics—BERKLEY SWEET—directs programs put on between halves at football games, supervises cheer leading and mass meetings—sees to the morale side of our sports.

Finance—AL DONNELLY—keeps tab on club treasuries, supervises all ticket selling, and extracts ten per-cent of all profits from affairs sponsored by clubs to which admission is charged—just another bill collector!

Defense—EVELYN COOK—directs sales of War Stamps and Bonds and is co-ordinator between the school and the Civilian Defense Council—you've seen her every week when you buy your defense stamps.

Student Welfare—MAGDALENE NETTER—supervises voting, relief and clean-up campaigns, plans assembly programs—she promotes school spirit and fellowship.

Organizations—LOUISE MARKHUS—assists Tad and Taddy to join the clubs they wish and sees that they don't overdo it, enforces club rules, and promotes new clubs—wartime curtailment of activities makes her job easier.

Social Affairs—BARBARA WITT—assists in the planning of school dances and other social affairs, checks on all plans—supervises our little social whirl.

Publications—MARGARET PEOPLES—supervises edition of all school periodicals, heads committee in charge of ethics for publications—promotes all-round co-operation.

Clerk of Board—BETTY TROUP—keeps attendance for the Student Council, records grade averages of Senator Tad and Representative Taddy—records momentous doings for posterity.

These students, who graduated in January to leave for college or the armed forces, were commissioners during the first semester.

Self Government in Practice

DeVilbiss' unique system of student self-government this year lay in the hands of these sixty-five Student Council Representatives.

The Student Council this year was under the leadership of Charles Clark during the first semester, and continued under the presidency of Dick Crumley for the second semester. Among its accomplishments were the formation of the Victory Corps, the sponsorship of the tax stamp collection—from which the school netted fifty-one dollars, and the preparation of a scroll letter to Lieutenant Mathias upon which students and teachers wrote messages.

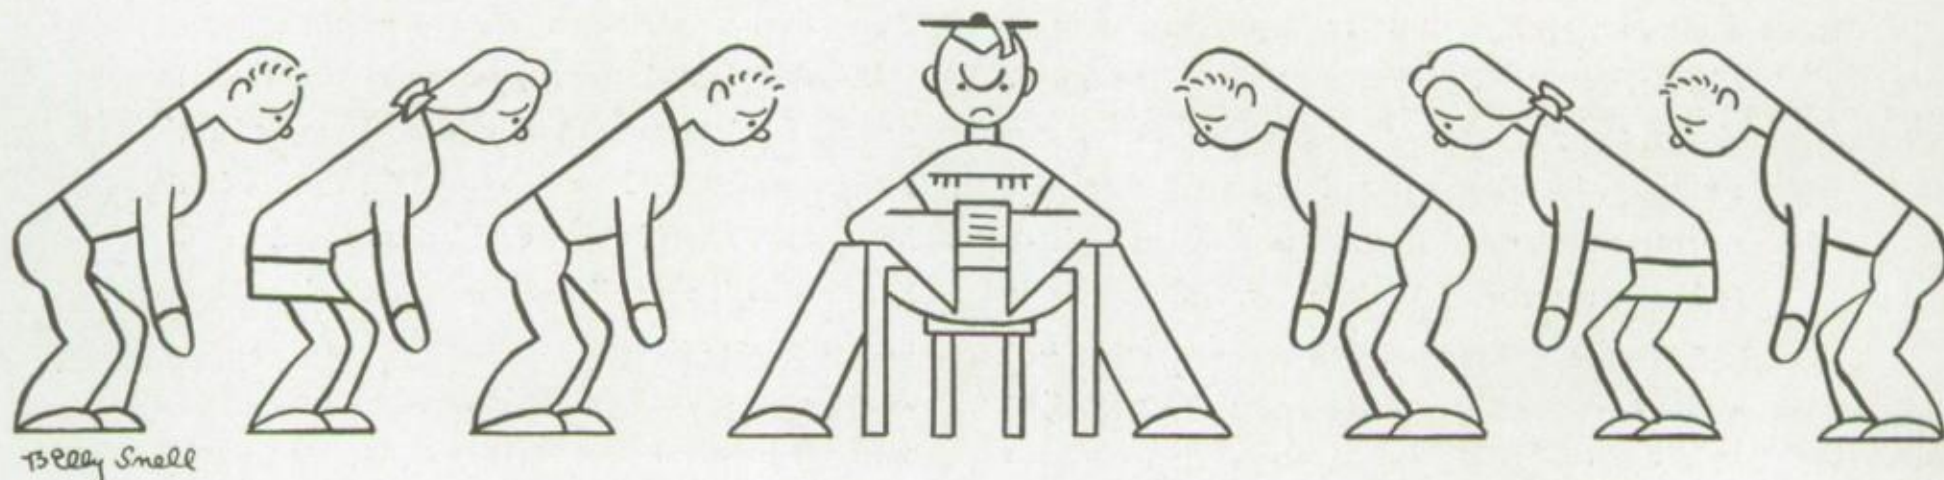

The Council is divided, after the pattern of the U. S. Congress, into two houses—the Senate, and the House of Representatives. The Senate is composed of Junior and Senior home room delegates, while the Freshmen and Sophomores make up the House of Representatives. Presiding over the House is the Speaker, who this year was Chester Konzett. In the two houses, or the Congress, is invested the power to make regulations concerning school organizations and general conduct about the school. The executive power is vested in the President of the Council, and a Board of Commissioners appointed by him. DeVilbiss has long had a Student Council, but only since last year has it been organized along the lines of the most notable democratic assembly in the world. Its successful record so far has made it an outstanding example of democracy in action.

The Fearful Four

To these four students goes the task of determining what to do with Tad when he prefers the great outdoors to the school room, or Taddy when she chooses Tyrone Power over the three R's. Picked from the general student body, they mete out penalties for sundry offenses, are responsible for Taddy's wiping dishes in the cafeteria, or Tad's staying in after school at night. Constantly on the alert for avenging mischief-makers, they must be especially careful not to be pushed down the stairs or out windows as this would necessitate appointing a whole new Student Court. They have done a satisfactory piece of work, however, both in judging well and wisely, and in avoiding all physical dangers connected with their jobs, the proof of which lies in the improved behavior of numerous Tadites, and in the healthful existence of all four Justices.

Service Corps

Two short years ago, with a small group of students as a nucleus, and Mr. Raymond Lowry as advisor, the DeVilbiss Service Corps was created. Today, many of the students from that first group are gone, but the service Corps carries on. In that two years much has been accomplished. It has become a highly efficient body, ready at any time to serve the school, for the Corps was and is dedicated to one aim, one purpose—serving DeVilbiss. The Corps does not as a rule function as a whole, but rather through the different squads. These squads work as ushers and guards at football and basketball games; they work on the hall patrol, the library patrol; they work any place, anytime, in all kinds of weather. Each squad has its own set of officers, elected by the squad itself. Each squad is a small army within itself, and yet all these armies work together for the good of all. And so for doing a great job and doing it well, we offer a salute to the DeVilbiss Service Corps.

Tad and Taddy are in the Victory Corps! They're backing up the man behind the man behind the gun by joining this nation-wide organization of young people designed to coordinate and encourage activities contributing to the war effort. Tad himself soon may be the man behind the gun. Who knows? And Taddy won't be far behind. No knitting needles for her! If she's not turning out jeeps, she'll be victory gardening for dear life. But whatever tomorrow brings, they'll be better prepared for having belonged to the Victory Corps.

The Victory Corps is divided into five special service divisions: Air Service Division, Land Service Division, Sea Service Division, Production Service Division, and Community Service Division. The general aim of these divisions is two-fold: (1) the training of youth for that war service that will come after they leave school; and (2) the active participation of youth in the community's war effort while still in school.

First of the units to be organized was the Air Service Division, pioneering with approximately eighty members. The aim of this group is to widen the sphere of aeronautics knowledge by daily preparation in pre-flight courses. This group has come a long way towards realizing its goal by constructing plane models, reading "Current Aviation papers," and training in plane identification. Miss Larkin is advising this division, whose student leader is Gene Zackrisson.

March 18th was the organization date of the Sea Service Division, led by Mr. Stalker. Induction included seventeen members with a nucleus of ten boys with past experience in Boy Scouts or Sea Scouts who will act as leaders, as officers, and as instructors. The main objectives of the division are physical fitness and training for service. Service preparation will include training for seamanship, signaling, Morse Code, elementary navigation, learning rules of the road for both fresh and salt-water navigation, nomenclature of ships, types of ships, and the international rules. Charter members will participate in a program of military drill in classes which are being held for all high school boys.

The Community Service Division organizes our school Junior Red Cross, Home Nursing girls, students participating in money raising campaigns for war purposes, assistants in air raid drills, and other similar groups into one unit working to serve their community. The Home Nursing girls have done outstanding work in their volunteer hours outside of school at various hospitals. They have made surgical dressings, rolled bandages, and assisted dieticians. Other girls have knitted or taken care of children whose parents are in industry. One of the Junior Red Cross projects this year was the supplying of army camp amusements. Magazines, candy bars, records, sheet music, and books have been sent to the boys in service. Red Cross sewing has been another major project. There is a Red Cross disaster corps to help in refuge shelters. In the Community Service Division is included also our school organization for air raid drills. A few of our students have even become full fledged air raid wardens. One of the most recent activities of the division was the distributing of WAAC posters for display in store windows. Betty Galliers is the student chairman under the guidance of Miss Bloom, Miss Miller, and Miss Van Noorden.

The Production Service Division of the Victory Corps combines industry and agriculture. In our shops, students are preparing for service in war industry to relieve the critical manpower shortage. Thousands of additional worker are needed in factories manufacturing aircraft, munitions, and special war equipment, and we are proud that so many of our students are training to be the man behind the gun. Albert Ahlers is the student chairman of the group; Mr. Balsam is the advisor. Other home front soldiers are the victory gardeners. Four hundred students are participating in the agriculture branch of the Production Service Division. Meetings were held to give instructions for planning and planting. Head gardeners are Mr. Diller, Mr. Coontz, Mr. Nauts, Mr. H. Emery, Miss Dickey, and Mr. Kiker.

The Land Service Division of the Victory Corps is aimed to make the greatest possible number of pupils physically fit to carry on as members of the armed forces or as efficient workers. With this objective in mind our physical training program has been intensified under the leadership of Mr. Norman Kies.

Varsity Football

The DeVilbiss Tigers of the gridiron, led by Head Coach Ollie Klee, went through an up-and-down season. The highlight of the season was the Libbey game on Thanksgiving morning. In wind-swept Page Stadium the mighty Libbey Cowboys, undefeated in eighteen games, lined up to slaughter the DeVilbiss Tigers. The whistle blew and the battle began. For the first half the game waged unchecked but no advantage was gained by either side. After the rest at the half, the battle began again, continuing until it seemed that the game would end with no score for either side. But fate deemed otherwise, and with only four minutes to play, the Cowboys blocked a Tiger punt behind the goal line and fell on it for six points. That was the score at the end of the game.

At the annual banquet Dick Kurtz, senior center, was voted the most valuable player and received the Doc Berlin Trophy. Junior wingback, Dick Ehrhardt, was elected captain on the 1943 squad.

The 1942-43 basketball squad, after a slow start, finished the second half of the city race with the rating of the hottest team in town. During the second round play, the Tigers lost only one game and defeated Macomber and Woodward, present city and district champions, by good margins.

Led by Captain Bill Bolton, DeVilbiss won ten and lost five games. Center Jack Pfeiffer was high scorer with 190 points, followed by Jack Olds with 132. At the annual banquet, Bob Browning was voted the most valuable player, and Jack Pfeiffer was elected captain of the 1943-44 team. Letters were presented by Coach Scottie Florence to the following players:

Seniors

Capt. Bill Bolton
Bob Browning
Jack Olds
Jim Snider

Juniors

Capt. Elect Jack Pfeiffer
Dave Brown
Jim Herssig
Sammy Botek
Leo Maher

Tennis, 1942

The tennis team was an honor to DeVilbiss in the city competition. They were undefeated for the complete league schedule. The members were: Jim Wolfe, Jack Baird, Jim Mathias, Rex Hendrixon, Raleigh Campbell, Dave Wright, and Joe Cannon.

Golf, 1942

The DeVilbiss golf team had another successful year. They were runner-up in the district meet to Sylvania, the present state champions. At the state meet the team finished sixth. Letter winners were: Bob Romberger, Captain; George Warner; Louis Ostermann; Bob Williams; Art Kohl; Paul Rahl; and Skip McKnight.

Track, 1942

The 1942 DeVilbiss track team, led by Captain Jack Duncan, successfully defended its city and district championships. The team was undefeated in dual competition, having victories over Woodward, Waite, and Libbey. We did not meet Scott. The district title was easily annexed at Bowling Green. Jack Duncan, Russell

Chick, Tim Hewlett, Julius Himelhoch, Jack Conrad, Dick Crumley, Owen Hess, Don Hill, Chuck Clark, Jack Harbaugh, Frank Lamping, and Dick Goins made up the team. Owen Hess and Dick Goins were elected co-captains for 1943.

Swimming, 1943

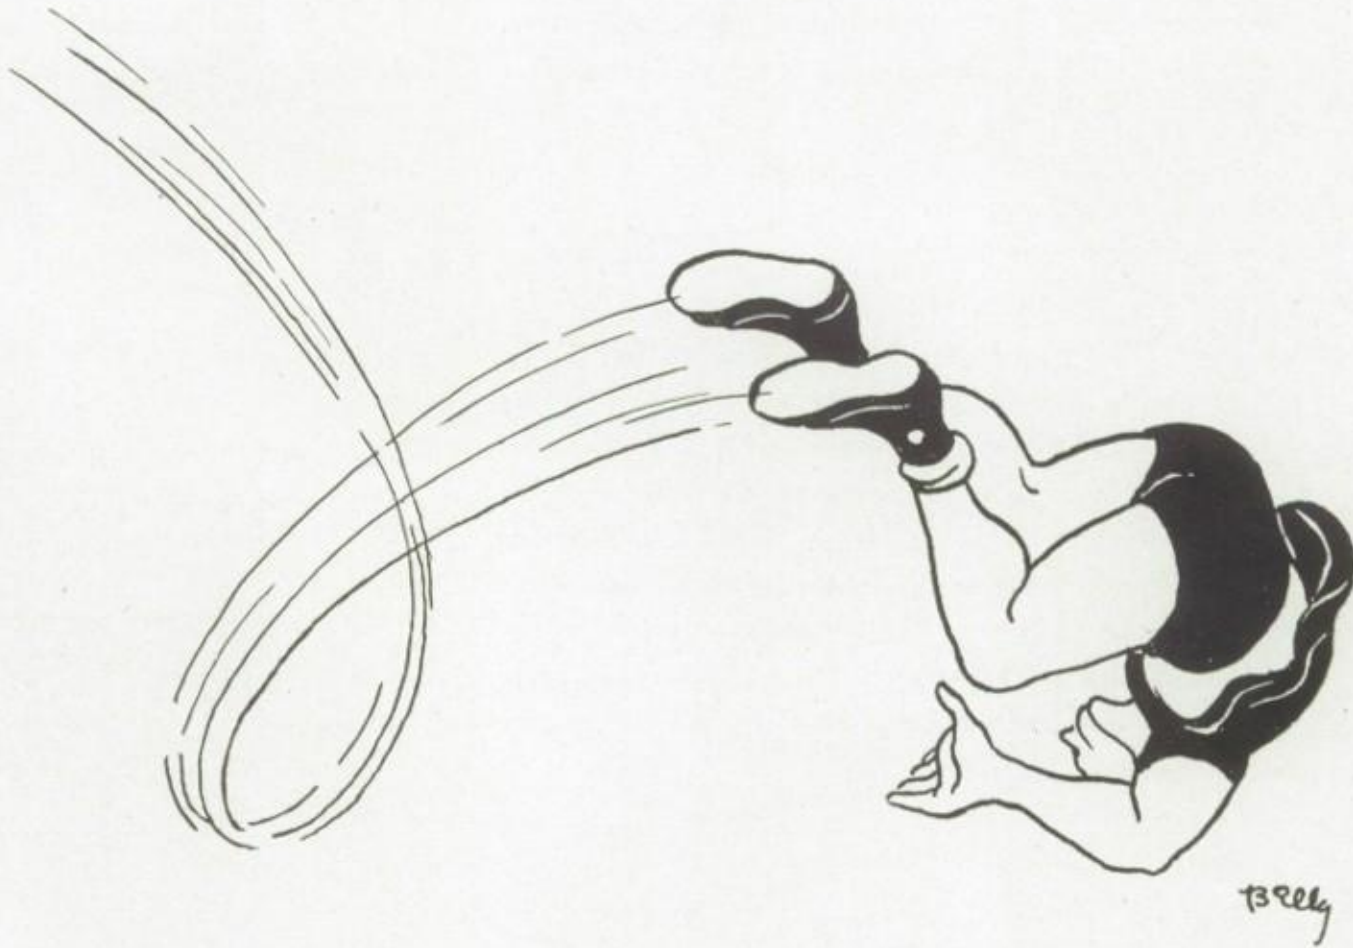

The swimming team, lead by Captain Ray Valassis, had only one meet, that was with Adrian. The Tigers were victorious. Limited by transportation difficulties, they still practiced at the Y. M. C. A. at least two nights a week.

The War and Physical Fitness

For most of the senior boys the war is just around the corner. A member of the armed forces must be in shape, and so must the future members also be. Under the able supervision of Athletics' Director Norman Pollman, the boys of DeVilbiss have been lead through a strenuous physical education program which is primarily designed to accustom them to the vigorous physical training in the service. Among the many things required in the program are calisthenics, tumbling, and the newly formed commando course. The remaining time of the five days a week is spent in rough and tumble physical contact games, and in the study of First Aid. All in all, it is hoped that the well-rounded physical education program has better prepared the senior boys of DeVilbiss for their entry into the armed services.

Girls' Athletics

Physical Fitness for Miss DeVilbiss

Groans and moans seemed to be the password in the girls' gym this year, as the girls limped stiffly in, day after day to take exercises—exercises and more exercises. The keynote being physical fitness, the girls wouldn't slacken, stiffness or not. (And believe me we were all stiff).

Besides exercises, we had exercises. Plus our regular gym program. The fall season consisted of exercises, field ball and exercises for the freshman; hockey and exercises for the sophomores; exercises, hockey and exercises for the juniors; and exercises for the seniors, although they were more fortunate, and were allowed to participate in outside classes in bowling, golf, swimming, tennis, and riding.

Full swing ahead for the winter season of exercises and a little basketball, team sports, and more junior antipathies for modern dance.

The climax to the basketball season was held in the boy's gym where the seniors played the juniors. (But we don't talk about that!)

Ah, spring! The bird is on the wing! And some of the gals wished that they had wings so they could fly around the field instead of running the two lengths—after which they had to take the whole period to recuperate. The rest of the season was spent in baseball and—exercises.

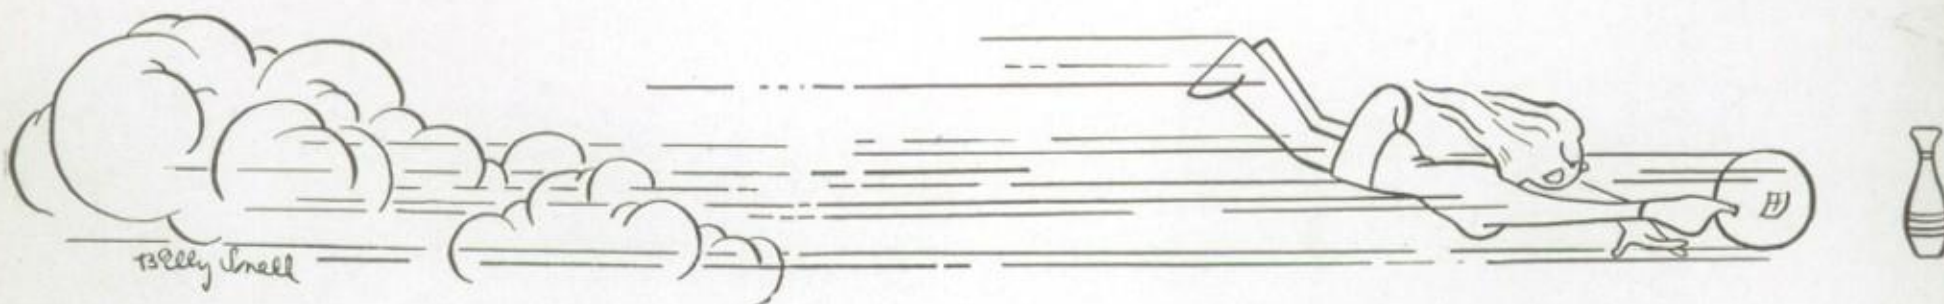

In spring a young man's fancy turns to—tennis, and this year he had real reason to be thinking of such. The athletic commission sponsored a tournament which consisted of girls' and boys' singles, girls' and boys' doubles, and mixed doubles. The gym staff heartily agree that the tournament was a grand success because of the—exercise!

G. A. S.

The Girls' Athletic Society, managed by junior officers for the first time, had one of its most successful years, socially and athletically. We "took in" the green-horns October 23 at a Freshman Mixer at Ottawa Park. Remember the wonderful cider and the soap-box speeches? And then who could forget the hayride on November 29, when we all nearly froze to death? Drip-drip-drip was the theme of our splash party held at the Y.M.C.A. on January 30, followed by mid-year awards. We had a novel and dignified (?) Mom's Nite, April first, with a "Take It or Leave It" program.

The sophomores are still lamenting the fact that they couldn't go to Bowling Green for play-day, May eighth. And to make the matters worse, the juniors and seniors had such a swell time that they can't stop talking about it.

Dad isn't really so old and run-down, as some of the girls found out at Pop's Nite. Somehow the pops always manage to win.

Something new—the bike hike. We rode our bikes out to the Doherty Club for one grand day of—exercise.

And last, but most important, the senior banquet given by the juniors—a time to say "so-long" to the senior girls who have been the makers of the G. A. S. and our best friends.

Our leaders this year were not only prominent in athletic circles but in all school activities. Elizabeth Roulet, our president, was elected "Typical Taddy." Our vice president was the quick-witted, vibrant pillar of the junior class, Betty Galliers. Then there's Alice Vitmeier, our secretary, who was definitely hit hardest by the exercises and who is known for her "Gee, I live a hard life." Our only senior officer was Marge Hamann, treasurer. Marge is one of the grandest girls you could know—a true example of a G. A. S. girl.

Handling war calls in the long distance telephone office is a definite contribution to the war effort.
